

HARRISBURG LETTER

Account of Work of Last Week in Legislature

HOUSE AND SENATE

Hold All-Night Session and Partially Clear the Calendar of Important Bills—Adjournment.

Harrisburg, May 15.—The Capitol Investigation Commission presented a short report to the Legislature setting forth that they had gone into the affair as deep as possible with the time at their command, but found the work so far-reaching as to make it practically impossible to complete the investigation before the adjournment of the Legislature on May 16.

The probers also notified the Legislature that they had many lines of investigation yet to be followed out through which they expected to develop the most important disclosures of the entire proceedings and that they would therefore like the commission to be continued and to be directed to whom to report. Both branches of the Legislature immediately passed a resolution continuing the commission and directing it to report to Governor Stuart with all recommendations. There was no opposition to the resolution nor was any comment made. The Governor signed the resolution without delay.

The Longwell bill, exempting short line railroads from the new two-cent fare law was defeated in the House. The bill applied to lines of forty miles or less in length and gave them the right to charge up to five cents a mile for passenger fare. Mr. Longwell called on Governor Stuart early in the day, but could get no assurance that the bill would be approved even if passed. When it was called for final passage it encountered vigorous opposition at the hands of Representatives Brown of Clarion and McAdoo of Westmoreland. Representative Kaiss of Lycoming urged that the bill be passed as evidence of good faith on the part of the Legislature toward the smaller railroads of the state. It was apparent from the start that the House was against the bill, and when a vote was taken it showed that the measure lacked fifteen of a constitutional majority. The vote was 59 for to 65 against.

The Kohr bill, levying a tax for all purposes on traction engines, automobiles, wagons, trucks and all vehicles propelled by steam or electricity except motor cycles, was also defeated. The bill has been before the House for six weeks or longer, during which time it occasioned more debate than perhaps any other measure on the calendar.

The following bills passed finally both the Senate and the House and now await the approval of the Governor:

Appropriating $200,000 for the care and maintenance of the National Road.

Providing for the appointment of a deputy state veterinarian, a clerk and a stenographer.

Providing for the appointment of a clerk for the director at farmers' institutes.

Providing for the payment of expenses of the Sheriff incident to the execution of writs against personal property in counties having a population of 1,000,000 or more.

Providing that whenever the head of a family or a person shall be quarantined because of an infectious or contagious disease and shall be unable to pay the expense of maintenance and treatment of his family or himself during the period of quarantine, he shall be considered a "poor person" or a "needy and indigent poor" person within the meaning of the poor laws.

Fixing the pay of Sheriff's watchmen at $2 a day and making twelve hours a legal day for such watchman.

Requiring dogs to wear a collar to be provided by the owner, together with a tag to be attached showing payment of tax, and providing for killing of dogs whose owners fail to comply with the act.

Compelling water companies to furnish water to municipalities in which their source of supply is located or forfeit their rights to a sufficient quantity to such sources as will supply the needs of such municipalities.

The Homsher bill, giving trolley companies right of eminent domain. The House will concur in the Senate amendments.

The Senate passed finally the Cochran Soldiers' Pension bill and the bill now awaits the action of the Governor. It carries an appropriation of $5,800,000, but Grand Army men say they will ask Governor Stuart to cut this amount to $2,000,000.

The labor representatives have succeeded in getting the help of Governor Stuart and the Casey employers' liability bill has been put back into its original shape, as the House demanded.

May 16.—The Legislature last night accepted the Conference Committee report on the compromise Dunsmore Railroad Commission bill and it is now in the hands of the Governor. The Senate passed the bill 34 to 0; the House passed it by a vote of 179 to 0.

In the House, "Farmer" Creasy spoke against the bill, but subsequently voted for it. Mr. Dunsmore addressed the House at some length. He said that the new bill contained the essential features of the original measure. He further explained that several provisions had been eliminated from the old bill, because in the

MR. HORN MOVES

But Wins Nothing on the Political Chess Board.

The appended letter from Daniel S. Horn, Esq., to a prominent Democrat of the county is self explanatory.

Chairman Frank Fletcher, true to Democratic principles, allowed the occasion to pass without sending out blanks or suggesting names for committee; he believes in allowing the Democrats of the several districts to make their own selection.

But not so Mr. Horn. He went to the court house and secured the services of a Republican Deputy Sheriff who went to the Commissioners' office and asked for 25 or 30 blank petitions which he gave to Mr. Horn.

Thus did Mr. Horn seek to cover his tracks.

It is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Horn sent all the petitions out (if he did not they should be returned to the office of the Commissioners), but be that as it may we do know that one was sent with the appended letter. The tenth of May passed into history and none of Mr. Horn's petitions were filed. This stunning rebuke should teach at least one lesson: the Democrats of the county are not looking for a dictator. They know Mr. Horn and they know of his political alliances and those who received letters and petitions used their judgment and none were filed.

Mr. Horn's Letter
Bedford, Pa., May 8, 1907.

My Dear Sir:—

I enclose herewith petition for you or someone who shares your views to use in securing signers to have your name printed on the ballot for the Democratic Primary Election on June 1, as a candidate for Member of the Democratic Committee.

We want to put the Democratic party upon a winning basis as well as a thorough Democratic basis and if you will have this petition signed by ten Democrats either for yourself or some one for you who shares your ideas, we can start the matter going right when the Presidential year comes round. You need not give this any publicity at this time as there is no necessity to precipitate a contest now unless it is forced upon us.

This paper properly signed must be filed with the County Commissioners by May 10th.

With sincere regards, I am,
Very truly yours,
Daniel S. Horn.

Let me hear from you when convenient.

RECKLESS MOTORING

Must Be Checked—Black Hand Not Known in Italy—Peace Conference and War Engines.

New York, May 15.—One of the shocking features of the present state of affairs is the indifference with which we look upon human suffering and the jeopardizing of human life. Frightful steamboat and railroad accidents occur every day involving hundreds of killed and wounded, yet because they have become so frequent they scarcely attract a passing notice. Little children playing in front of their own homes are maimed or murdered every day by trolley cars, the brutal motorman seeming to think that a few minutes time is of more value than a human life.

Hearts are broken, firesides are left desolate, yet no one takes the trouble to ascertain if the pedestrian has any rights that the motorman is bound to respect. The first step towards reform should be the abolishment of fines in cases involving the loss of life or limb. Let the punishment be a long term of imprisonment, with hard labor. You then mete out justice to the rich and poor alike. As matters stand now, the rich man pays his fine and walks out of court a free man but the poor man goes to prison and serves out his time in ward and bitter toil for years; in one case justice is meted out as it ought to be, and in the other, crime is condoned for money.

About three weeks ago the chauffeur of a multi-millionaire was driving a touring car along a crowded boulevard at a fifty mile clip utterly regardless of whom he endangered; an old man was knocked down and severely injured; the chauffeur was caught and taken to the police court; the case was a flagrant one and the Magistrate was angry, for the old man injured was a much respected neighbor; the chauffeur was one of those high priced speeders we are importing on account of their desperate records in auto races all over Europe.

Before pronouncing sentence, the Judge gave the prisoner a lesson; he said he had been lenient, his fines having been five and ten dollars and a reproof, but that in this case he felt inclined to show no mercy, and after showing the prisoner the enormity of his crime, he fined him a hundred dollars, assuring him, if he ever appeared again in that court the penalty would be doubled; then the chauffeur said, "Am I free, now?"

"Yes," said the Judge, "when you have paid your fine." The chauffeur put his hand in his pocket and drew out a big wad of bank-bills; carefully selected a new, crisp hundred dollar bill and threw it down on the clerk's desk, with a contemptuous smile; when out of the court's jurisdiction he burst into a loud laugh which set the Judge's teeth on edge, and I thought I heard him say, "D—n him, I wish I had him back." As the Judge is a Sunday school superintendent I may have been mistaken about the cuss words, but, if the Judge did not say "D—n it," he looked it and if that chauffeur ever gets into his court again he will think that a cyclone has struck his wallet—in addition to which he may also be shown the inside of a state's prison.

Something must be done to secure greater safety of life and limb, and if the courts afford no relief, though I detest a settlement by the unwritten law, I doubt not that appeal will finally be made to the court of Judge Lynch whose punishment is swift and sure as well as impartial. Let judges and courts be warned, and thus avoid this calamity.

We find ourselves facing a very serious matter, and no remedy yet offered to help us out. The foreign element pouring in upon us at the rate of a thousand a week are an unsavory lot and they live together in the most unsanitary manner, making a constant threat on the public peace and health; they hardly set foot on shore before they are captured by the unscrupulous politician and by the boldest perjury are piloted on the way to citizenship. It does not take them long to learn that the freeman's ballot, gained by citizenship, has a tangible value in dollars or whiskey; it is always marketable on election day. This precious jewel, for which we paid thousands in lives and treasure, is bartered away for less than a mess of pottage. Unless this undesirable immigration is blocked, it will not be long before they hold the balance of power, and our children may live to see the day when voters will be sold in batches to the highest bidder, as cattle are sold in the shambles.

A party of Italian gentlemen met here a short time ago to consider the question of the prejudice against their race; the party was made up of men well known, and of high standing in the community; there were doctors, lawyers, merchants and soldiers, and after a very full investigation and eulogy of the Italian peasant, the speaker made the astonishing declaration that the Black Hand is entirely unknown in Italy. We know it here; hardly a day passes, but honest Italians, who have prospered in business, have met with the demands of the Black-Handers (black-mallers)—for thousands of dollars; their penalty of non-payment, or for giving information to the police, being death. It is only

Off to the Parks

Within the last few days a number of Bedfordites have gone to take charge of amusements or to assist in park management.

William I. Eicholtz is superintendent for the Jamestown Amusement Co. at Celoron park, near Lake Chautauque, N. Y. He was accompanied by Harry Beemiller.

George R. Shuck holds a similar position at Dream City park, Wilkesburg.

Harry W. Hartley will manage the amusements at a park at Syracuse, N. Y., and Ellis May will be employed at the same park.

Luther Diehl of Bedford township will fill a similar position at Dayton, O.

James Davidson will leave on Sunday for Rockpoint, near Ellwood City, Pa., where he will be assistant manager of the park at that place this season.

Fire Checked

At one o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the mow of A. E. Fyan's brick stable. The alarm was sent in and the Fire Department soon responded. Several streams from plugs were soon playing on the flames and the fire was extinguished before it did any damage to the first story. Several tons of hay were destroyed and some harness.

Maxim Gun Exhibit

One of the most important exhibits to be seen in the Marine appliances building at the Jamestown Exposition is a display of ordnance from the Vickers Maxim Company, one of the largest manufacturers of guns and firearms in England. Great importance is attached to the decision of this firm to participate in the ordnance exhibit at the Exposition, in that it is a recognition of the value to exhibitors to enter into the display of this line of manufacturers at the Ter-Centennial. The exhibit consists of one six-pounder, semi-automatic gun, with naval mounting and automatic pack gun, together with several pieces of lighter ordnance. The exhibit also includes a display of addery and ammunition.

are quickly relieved by Nosenia. It soothes the congested membranes, allays inflammations and thoroughly cleanses. It keeps moist all the passages whose tendency is to thicken and become dry. Cures colds, throat troubles, hoarseness, hay fever, "stopped-up" nose, breathing through mouth while sleeping, offensive breath, etc. It is antiseptic and contains no chemical or drugs having a narcotic effect, or that can cause the "drug habit."

We Guarantee Satisfaction

J. A. Brogdon, of the National Sign Co., Dayton, Ohio, writes under date of Oct. 12, 1906: "Nosenia is the only preparation I have ever used that relieves my affection so speedily and pleasantly. I am getting the first real pleasure out of breathing that I have experienced since I contracted catarrh six years ago. Money would not buy my tube of Nosenia if I could not get another."

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup is best for women and children. Its mild action and pleasant taste makes it preferable to violent purgatives, such as pills, tablets, etc. Get the booklet and a sample of Orino at Ed. D. Heckerman's.

Household Helps

Putting things away to keep them fresh for another season does not always result as expected; for instance, if woollens or furs are not sealed until after the busy month has been flying in the carpet beetle has been busy. Then the manner of putting away is to be considered. Two items of household furnishings must not be folded, no matter if you see the expensive rugs folded in the store. This is sometimes just the reason why they never lie flat and are inclined to "run" on the floor. Roll them always, even when they are taken out on sweeping day. This is easily done with the foot and without bending the body. Down quilts should be rolled loosely, and then they do not lose their fluffiness. Tie and hang up in cotton bags. Do not lay anything heavy on them.

A good solution for cleaning silver is composed of one-third pint of ammonia, two-thirds of a pint of alcohol and a tablespoonful of whiting shaken well together. Dampen a small sponge with the liquid and go over the silver quickly, wiping it off with a chamois skin before it dries. Silver will polish much easier if chamois skin is used instead of flannel.

A garment which has become badly faded may be made white by washing it in a boiling solution of water and cream of tartar. The proportion is one teaspoonful of cream of tartar to each quart of water.

If the coarse salt and chopped ice needed to freeze ice cream are mixed together in a separate vessel and the mixture then packed around the freezer can, the contents of the latter will freeze much more evenly. The proportion should be one-third salt to two-thirds ice.

The carpet broom should be washed every week or so in hot soapsuds, shaken well and hung in the sun to dry quickly. If treated in this way it will last longer than ordinarily and will sweep the carpets cleaner.

Let me send you free, for Catarrh, just to prove merit, a Trial Size Box of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. It is a snow white creamy, healing antiseptic balm. Containing such healing ingredients as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., it gives instant and lasting relief to Catarrh of the nose and throat. Make the free test and see for yourself what this preparation can and will accomplish. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Large jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Hurried meals, lack of exercise are the main causes of dyspepsia. A Rings Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal aids digestion, improves the appetite. Sold by Irvine's Drug Store.

MINNEAPOLIS Weak Women

Interesting Description of One of the Twin Cities by

HON. WILLIAM P. SCHELL

The First Settlers—The Growth—The Industries—Lakes, Parks, Boulevards and Buildings.

The beautiful and ornate city, Nymph-like, reposes gracefully upon the lake and Mississippi waters.

When the new-born city was to be given a name that of All Saints was suggested, probably because that would entirely eclipse the glory of all the other places with "saintly" names—St. Anthony, St. Peter, St. Croix and St. Paul. However, after considerable controversy, the city was named Minneapolis from the Sioux word Minne (water) and the Greek word Polis (city).

The city covers nearly 60 square miles of territory, including the village of St. Anthony (Note 1).

There are no great elevations or depressions except Lowery Hill, the lake beds and the great gorge of the Mississippi, which river flows through the city for a distance of 12 miles with a fall of 105 feet within one mile. The first house in Minneapolis was built by Col. John H. Stevens near the falls in 1849. A few years ago it was removed to Minnehaha Park where it is kept as a memento.

In 1858 Minneapolis was organized as a borough, but in 1860 the act of incorporation was rejected at the demand of the citizens, on account of the expense, and Minneapolis was placed back in the township. However, in February, 1867, it was incorporated as a city. On February 28, 1878, the city and St. Anthony were consolidated as the city of Minneapolis. In 1884 the city only contained 12 houses, and these were scattered. Owing to the uncertainty as to what action Congress might take in regard to the claims of settlers on the Ft. Snelling reservation, the growth of the city was halted. But when Congress, in 1855, adopted the act giving the right of pre-emption to actual settlers on that part of the reservation not required by the government, they were enabled to prove up and obtain titles to their claims. Then prosperity began, lands changed ownership, and many immigrants with money came in.

A land office had been opened in 1854. The first survey of the city was made in the same year by W. R. Marshall, and other additions were made in 1856-7. In the fall of 1855 more than 100 houses had been built, but the boom was suddenly checked by the panic of 1857, when the population had increased to 2,000. The first house for Hennepin county was then in process of erection. The Presbyterian, Free Will Baptist and Episcopal congregations had church edifices. On May 11, 1858, Minnesota was admitted as a state.

The founders of the city used no stinted economy in space in laying out the pavements, streets, avenues, parks and parkways, for they are all of great width. The principal streets and avenues are paved with wooden blocks or asphaltum. Unfortunately the first streets were located parallel to the river which runs through the city in a southeasterly direction, hence when the streets of the subsequent additions were located according to the cardinal points, the streets at their connections made unsightly misfits and they look as though they had been jotted out of place.

These minor defects are amply atoned for in the beautiful parks which have been set apart, and in the lovely lakes, which dot the city over. The city owns about 1,800 acres of park area, with connecting and encircling driveways aggregating 35 miles in length. Among the parks are Loring, 36 acres; Minnehaha, 159 acres; Riverside, 20 acres; Fairview, 21 acres, and many smaller ones, in all 49. In addition to the beautiful lakes there are the charming cascades within the city limits—St. Anthon, Minnehaha and Bridal Veil Falls.

Minneapolis may very properly be divided into three parts: the Urban, which is built very compactly along the river and around the falls and is the center of business, trade and manufactures; the Mid-Urban, with its wide streets and avenues, parks and palatial residences, wide front and side yards, is beautiful and fragrant with grass, flowers, shrubbery and stately trees. This part of the city was evidently intended for suburban residences, but through the march of population and the increase of wealth it became too narrow and restricted, and hence a suburban settlement, per se, became a necessity.

The sub-urban section comprises that portion of the city that clustered around the lake border. There the Lake Dwellers have their country homes.

I have observed two tendencies at work in Minneapolis, and the same tendencies exist in nearly all large towns and cities. The one is to break up the old, sweet homes and take miserable refuge in boarding houses, hotels and apartment houses. This tendency is to be deprecated by every lover of the home, the church and the state.

God placed the solitary in families. He instituted both the home and the church, and the family today is both the church and the state, which someone has said "is the household of God."

In truth, the home life is the genial soil in which grow the love of God, love of man and love of country. Children, reared in Christian homes nearly always make good citizens. Government and all other things may perish, but the home and the church are eternal verities. I cannot conceive of any condition of life that is so sad and pathetic as the life of a child who has never known a parental home.

The other tendency is to have the home in the city and seek one in the country—like the homes of our old fathers and mothers. In this movement much of the best of city life is imparted to the country life. Therefore it is healthful and commendable. Some time ago a kind friend gave me the opportunity to visit this suburban Minneapolis. From the heights of Kenwood park I had a fine, clear and extensive view of the topography of the lake section. I saw a group of five lakes and the corresponding depression in the land surface. Each lake was encircled with high rims or bluffs with an occasional intervening plateau. On some of these elevations I saw the debris of departed glaciers piled up like the sand dunes along the Jersey coast.

Around these lake bluffs and upon these plateaus there are many little cities or villages, adorned with elegant and ornate mansions which hang like great gray clusters in the sky. These little cities stood out very conspicuously in the sunlight by reason of the lake depressions between them. They are wholly unique; I know not their counterpart anywhere. I have read of the Lake-Dwellers of Switzerland who lived in houses built upon piles, in mid lake, but this was for protection from cruel enemies and not for comfort. Many of the houses on these lake borders are really artistic and elegant. I have seen there every style of architecture, ancient, medieval and modern and some that was non-descript. The fact is every house owner tried to have his house different from every other house, not only in architecture, but in outward ornamentation and in color. Broad avenues or boulevards wind around the lake shores and at intervals cross the plateaus.

Now, recurring to the city as a whole, while I have not had the pleasure of seeing it in spring and summer apparel, yet I feel very sure that when so clothed it must be one of the most beautiful and attractive cities in the United States.

The following lakes are within the city limits: Lake Harriet, Amalia, Lake of the Isles, Lakes Calhoun, Cedar, Bass, Sandy, Rice, Keegan, Field, Powderhorn, Hallan and Hannan. There are also several beautiful lakes contiguous to the city. The most beautiful of these is Lake Minnetonka, which lies slightly southwest of the center of the city and within easy reach by three lines of railroads. The shore line measures 115 miles. Steamers make daily trips on the lake in summer.

The shores are lined with many large hotels, cottages, club houses, etc. The lake is not only a resort for the citizens of Minneapolis, but many people from Chicago, St. Louis, and other large cities spend the summers at this lovely place.

Many of the early wooden structures of the city are yet standing, but they are very rapidly giving way to larger and more substantial buildings. All the new public, business and residential buildings are fine and solid. Among these are the post office, court house, city hall and chamber of commerce. The liberal and enterprising citizens have established all public institutions that are necessary to promote the health, education, amusements and morals of the people, such as schools for art, science, music, education, health, business, morals and religion. There are free art galleries and free libraries. Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale when, here expressed the opinion that the Minneapolis free library circulated the largest and most valuable collection of the literature of all nations, in the United States, according to its size. The cosmopolitan character of the population made such a collection necessary. There are upwards of 150, elegant church edifices and many fine and large hotels. Five very fine wagon bridges arch the Mississippi.

The city ranks high architecturally. The taste and refinement of the buildings attract the attention and admiration of visitors and give evidence of the refinement of the citizens. The early flour and saw mills were all built near and around the Falls of St. Anthony. The first flour and saw mills were built by Colonel Snelling in 1820 and 23 respectively. From that insignificant beginning has grown the immense lumber and flour trade of the city.

At the present time there are 13 large flour mills which produce over 85,000 barrels daily, equal to upward of $5,000,000 a year of which two and one-half millions are exported annually. This city is the largest primary wheat market in the world; the receipts and shipments for the year 1906 were 93,263,910 bushels.

As a lumber producing point Minneapolis leads the world. The census of 1900 shows her output of $12,283,305 worth of lumber, far in excess of any other city in the country. The logs are cut in the northern part of Minnesota and floated down the Mississippi river into the boom, a little distance above the city. The saw mills have an annual capacity of 750,000,000 feet but they do not saw to the full capacity, though in 1905 they sawed 332,166,000 feet.

The business of Minneapolis in 1905 was, in round numbers, as follows:

Bank deposits ..... $ 70,000,000
Bank clearings ..... 914,000,000
P. O. receipts ..... 1,245,000
Assessed valuation ..... 137,000,000
Manuf. capital ..... 67,000,000
Manuf. products ..... 122,000,000
Wage earners ..... 22,000
Freight received, cars ..... 290,000
Freight shipped, cars ..... 268,000
The city is the financial center of the northwest. There are five national banks, eight state banks, four savings banks and three trust companies.

The population in 1906 was 261,974 and therefore the city ranks as number 16 among the cities of the United States, and may be properly called by the endearing name "Sweet Sixteen."

St. Anthony

(Note 1)—This village was situated on the east side of the river, near the falls. The first actual settler was R. P. Russell in 1848. W. R. Marshall, afterwards governor, settled there in 1849 when the territory of Minnesota was organized and St. Paul designated as the temporary capital. Mr. Marshall made an ineffectual effort to have St. Anthony made the permanent capital but secured the location of the State University there.

In 1849 a public school was opened in a small log shanty by Miss Electa Bachus and in the fall a small log school house was built, the first in the county. In 1850 the village was surveyed and laid out; in 1854 a post office was established; in 1855 the village was incorporated as a borough; in 1878 it was consolidated with Minneapolis.

This being a bright May-like day, Mrs. Thresher, my daughter and I took a car for the Falls of Minnehaha. The ice had disappeared, the creek was greatly swollen, the mad waters were plunging down the precipice with a thundering sound, and then arising in a white foam, in light spray and in invisible mist. The effulgent rays of the sun shone upon the cascade and became a rainbow with silvery sheen. But the most beautiful sight was a full tinted rainbow resting on the rapidly running water, far below the falls, for a distance of at least 100 yards; and then we saw the reflection of the rainbow on the hillside. We gazed on this unusual phenomena for some time and it was still there when we left. I presume it was caused by the glance of the sun on the water at some particular angle. What I saw on this visit verified my description of the falls in a former letter.

We then visited the Soldiers' Home, situated nearby upon the high bluff of the Mississippi river. There are some ten large and fine brick buildings, which accommodate 400 old soldiers; three buildings are for the old soldiers, one for husbands and wives, and widows, large dining-room, hospital, church, several for officers' quarters and one for offices. Captain Compton, from Meadville, Pa., has charge of the institution. He lost an arm in the late Civil War. He kindly took us through the various buildings and when I saw how well and comfortably Minnesota takes care of its war-worn veterans I almost regretted that I was not an old soldier too. The men were well clothed, well fed and happy. Minnesota deserves the commendation of every lover of his country for the provision it has made to smooth the declining years of the men who risked their lives for their country.

In November and December last, when the weather was damp and uncomfortable the good people charged that we had brought it with us from Pennsylvania; so, later, when the weather was so charming and unusual, we claimed that we brought it, also, from Pennsylvania.

In concluding this letter I desire to express my thanks and the thanks of my daughter for the kind, cordial and genuine hospitality extended to us by the generous friends of Minneapolis; and I will repeat that genuine and sincere hospitality is indigenous in western soil.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervousness makes people miserable, blue, and unhappy. They think something terrible is going to happen. At night they toss and worry and are not rested. They tire easily and haven't much energy. They think many things are the matter with them—Consumption, Kidney trouble, or twenty other diseases. It's just stomach trouble, nothing else in the world. Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape in three weeks. I know this because I've seen it tried a thousand times. Then all nervousness will disappear. I know this too, because I've seen it happen a thousand times. Here's a letter I got the other day:

"My system was badly run down and my stomach and nerves in an awful shape. I could not digest my food, was always tired and would often feel faint and dizzy."

"I had heard so much of your New Discovery medicine that I began taking it. Relief and strength and happiness were found in the very first bottle and the benefit I have received from it has been truly wonderful. I am no longer nervous, my appetite and digestion are good and I eat everything and sleep well." Mrs. W. J. Schauer, 220 Guthrie St., Louisville, Ky.

We sell Cooper's New Discovery. It makes tired, worn out, nervous people happy.

Ribbon on Cottons

Many of the extremely simple cotton stuffs are trimmed with narrow bands of ribbon velvet combined with lace and embroidery; in fact, velvet is to hold its own among the season's trimming, despite the prevalence of the lace embroideries, galloons, etc. Pannet belts are so smartly effective that their appropriateness is everlasting, and many of the sheerest summer luncas have for their only touch of color a handsome girde of panne velvet in one of the luscious fruit shades.

BEDFORD IN YE OLDEN TIME

Complete Text of Two Lectures Delivered by

DR. CHARLES N. HICKOK

In the Court House at Bedford, February 23 and March 19, 1886, and Printed in Full in the Bedford Gazette.

At the time of the passage of General Boquet's army in 1763, until 1780, and later, there were occasional outbreaks of savage cruelty. These were especially frequent and terrible in 1763-64 and in '67. The obliteration of entire families, and the dispersion and destruction of settlements were of not infrequent occurrence.

Three brothers of the name of Moore, one of them John, the grandfather of Ex-Sheriff Hugh and of George Moore, settled in Snake Spring Valley prior to 1763. During one of the predatory excursions of the Indians the family started for refuge to Fort Bedford and all of them succeeded in getting there except one of the brothers, George by name, who in trying to beat back the Indians killed one and was himself wounded and, as his friends supposed, was slain. Seven years afterward he returned to his home—the present Snyder farm—having been a prisoner all that time. Parties were killed while fleeing from Morrison's Cove to Fort Bedford, among others, ancestors of Mr. Bowers, our banker. Massacres occurred near Bloody Run, on Clear ridge, and other localities east of this. Sparks, the ancestor of the families of that name, on Clear ridge; Milligan of Milligan's Cove; McConnell of McConnell's Cove; the Pipers of Yellow Creek; Alexander Alexander—"Double-Alec" as he was called—the pioneer of Wells' Valley; the Williamses and others, who lack of time will not permit me to name, had many fearful experiences with, and hairbreadth escapes from their savage foes, the recital of which would rival the rugged romances of Cooper's "Leather-Stocking Tales."

Every school child has heard of Tull's Hill, a high ridge on the Pittsburg pike, seven miles west from Bedford, and the massacre of the Tull family. Mr. Tull's house or cabin was on the summit of the hill, north of the present turnpike, on the old road, or packer's path. The family consisted of the parents, and ten children, nine daughters and one son. The son, fortunately for him, was absent and escaped. All the others, eleven souls, were murdered, scalped and one burned in the house. The story, in detail, is horribly interesting, but lack of time deprives us of it this evening. Maj. James Burns (father of the late General and Judge James Burns and ancestor of Samuel and Daniel Burns, of Bedford,) who died a few years ago at the age of 102 years, came upon the scene before the victims had ceased to breathe, and hastening to the fort gave the alarm. A party of soldiers started in pursuit but it was only in time to have the dead buried. The savages had escaped. Mrs. Amick, ancestor of Mrs. George Stiffler, Mrs. Mower and others, who died at Clearville some fifteen years ago, at the age of 107 years, also witnessed savage atrocities and made escapes in her younger days to the fort.

I give an extract from the Pennsylvania Gazette of August 20, 1764, which incidentally explains the perilous state of affairs at the time. It says: "All appears to be quiet at present along the frontier except about Bedford, where there are, according to intelligence from thence, savages lying in wait for opportunity to do mischief." General Boquet writes to Governor Penn, August 25, 1764, as follows: "A party of thirty or forty Indians have killed near Bedford, one Isaac Stimble, an industrious inhabitant of Ligonier, taken a train of horses," (all the merchandise in those days was transported on horses and was termed packing) "loaded with merchants' goods, and shot some cattle, after Colonel Reed's detachment passed the post."

In Rev. Doctor Dorr's history of the early Episcopal churches of Philadelphia, we learn that in July, 1763, the "back inhabitants" at Bedford and other points were in such distressed condition from the inroads of the savages that Christ and St. Peter's churches at the instance of their rector, Rev. Dr. Peters, contributed the sum of £662 3s for their relief and, after corresponding with the rector and wardens of St. John's church at Carlisle, for information, "sent supplies of flour, rice and medicines, together with two chests of arms, half a barrel of powder, four hundred pounds of lead, two hundred of swan shot, and one thousand flints"—right substantial spiritual aid.

In 1778 the mother of the late James Rea (no relative of Ray, the first settler) who was born on the farm on which he died, four miles south of Bedford, took him when two years old on horseback to her former home at Shippensburg to escape the Indians. The late Dr. John Anderson when a boy of eleven years went one evening in company with a companion of about the same age into a pasture near the town for his father's cows. They were pursued by Indians. Young Anderson succeeded in getting home but the other lad was captured by the savages and never heard from afterwards. These are but a few of the incidents of hardship of those days that we can here relate.

The houses, now standing, next in age to the Boquet house, are the Funk and Nawgel taverns on West Pitt street, and the old tavern, now residence of William Kiser on East Pitt. Contemporaneous with these was the long, low, two-storied log weather-boarded house that stood where is now the McCulloh hall, corner of Pitt and Richard streets. This was built in 1766, by Thomas Anderson, father of the John Anderson above referred to and great-grandfather of the present generation of Andersons of Bedford. The early life of Anderson was a somewhat romantic one. In his native home in North Ireland he was known from his convivial and fox-hunting proclivities as "Rollicking Tom Anderson," but he was warm-hearted and generous to the last degree. He had won the heart and was promised the hand of the daughter of one of his father's neighbors, Alice Lyon, the aunt of the late Mrs. James M. Russell, and grand-aunt of the late William Lyon, Esq. The alliance was objected to by the lady's father, a man of rigid views, on account of Tom's recklessness, and she was forbidden to see him. Finding, as all such fathers do, parental authority an ineffectual barrier against the cunning of the "subtle god," Mr. Lyon surreptitiously sent his daughter across the "deep, deep sea" to the care of her brother, who had emigrated to Carlisle a few years before. Tom sought for her in vain amongst her kindred, and finally, disgusted and disconsolate, he sold his heritage and, gathering together his worldly gear, sought to forget his disappointment in the wilds of the new world. He made investments in Virginia. Some special providence drew him to Carlisle. As he was walking along the street the word "Tom!" reached his ear in tones "that made the heart of him lunge until his mouth" and looking in the direction of the voice he saw his Alice reaching her eager hands to him from an upper window. The romantic story is long, I cannot tell it here, but finally he bore his "true love" to Virginia where the twain were duly made one. Finally, in 1765 they came to Bedford, and lived here long, and for many years Rollicking Tom and his Alice have rested, side by side, under the thorn trees in the old town grave-yard.

The stone house now owned by G. M. Anderson was built by William Procter; the Espy house, now Mowry's, built by David Espy; the old Washington, burned in 1839, owned by Humphrey Dillon (father of Mrs. V. B. Tate); what is now the Bedford Hotel (Hafer) built by Rev. William Smith, D. D., rector of St. Peter's church, Philadelphia, first provost and founder of the University of Pennsylvania, also founder of the town of Huntingdon; the Heyden house now Miss Lyons'; the bank house (Hartley & Bowers) built by David Riley, as also the north end of the Fort house built by Henry Wertz, were from stone quarried on the summit of what is known as Boher's Hill, on the Anderson estate and between the years 1767-95.

The two oldest brick houses standing since the county offices in the square were removed, are the Dr. Anderson mansion, built by him, now the "Farmers' Home," on East Pitt street, and the old Davidson homestead built by Colonel Davidson, both built during the last quarter of the last century, exact date not known. Henry Woods, son of George, built the stone house now Blymyer's, before the building of the adjoining one (the bank house) by David Riley, in 1795. Henry Woods was in Congress. The stone store building, now in possession of Oster & Burns, was occupied about 1800 and thereafter by Col. Terrence Campbell and son as a store. It is said that the colonel, Terry as he was called, built it. If he did it was on a ground lease, as it was Woods' land.

General Burd built the brick house now in possession of J. C. Wright and Bro. and Dr. Statler, late in the last, or early in this century. He was an able lawyer and the son of Col. James Burd of the "Seven year war" fame. The old colonel and his wife died on the same day and were buried in one grave in the old graveyard south of town, and have since been removed to the cemetery.

The house on the southeast corner of the square, owned by M. A. Points, now occupied by T. S. Gilchrist, was built in 1798 by David Bowen, father of the venerable John Bowen, Esq., printer, to whom I am indebted for many valuable reminiscences. Mr. Bowen learned his trade in The Gazette office under Charles McDowell more than sixty years ago. He was born in the house in question. At the time of the raising of the house there were one hundred soldiers encamped in the square and they aided in the raising. The house was afterward owned by John Tod, Judge and Supreme Judge, of Pennsylvania. Here Mrs. Tod died in 1826, the day before the burning of the Bonnett House, now Purcell's. Mrs. Tod was the daughter of General Hanna, whose wife was the daughter of John Harris the founder of Harrisburg. She (Mrs. Hanna) was sister of Mrs. Maclay of Harrisburg, the great-grandmother of our fellow citizen, Judge Hall.

Where the Russell mansion—that was built in 1816—stands, was a log house, owned by one Henry Sides, a dissipated character, whose daughter married William Clark—Big Bill, as he was called from his great size, being scarcely able to walk from his enormous weight. He kept the "Rising Sun"—the old fort house, at an early day. He also kept the Clark House, now residence of John P. Reed, Esq. It was afterward kept by John Keefe, the father of our genial friend, Col. John Keefe, who was born there. While Clark had it a stranger hanged himself in the garret. Mr. Bowen says the corpse was taken down the alley to the old Episcopal burial ground by a few youngsters, "double quick" and buried sans ceremonie. The late Dr. Barclay had, at the time, his office in a one-story shed-roofed building that stood against the Keefe house, where is now the Minnich drug store building.

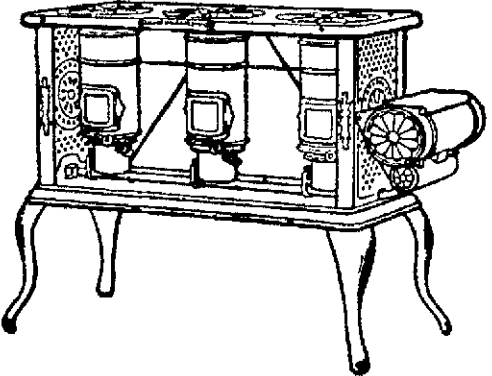

Mr. Hershberger, grandfather of Henry, built in 1800 the log-weatherboarded house now Mrs. Brode's, as a residence, and afterwards, after 1820, the brick between it and Diehl's—the Minnich residence—as a store room, now Heckerman's drug store. The Minnich house was built about 1820 by Jacob Diehl, clockmaker. Opposite, in front of the office of the late Mr. Findlay Mann, stood the log house of "Billy Gibson" which was built before the fort went down.

Samuel Funk, (one of the sons of George) latter, owned all the corner from Hershberger's around to Dr. Hofus' house. It was filled with quaint, one-story buildings that, a few years ago, gave place to the Brode building. In the corner one Associate Judge Morrison had a store for years. In the next one Hershberger's, Thomas R. Gettys, Sr., about 1824, started a newspaper called the "True American," in the interests of the Whig party. He sold it to one Grier; bought it back again in 1827, changed its name to the Bedford Inquirer, advocating the same political creed, which paper, after sundry vicissitudes, incident to all human enterprises, always preserving its individuality, remains a lively and estimable journal to this day. Lecturing for a cemetery association seems a dead subject, the introduction into which, of living issues may not be just the thing, yet viewing the situation from my own—I trust—not bigoted standpoint, I may be pardoned for the magnanimity that inspires me to turn aside to congratulate the venerable paper on the versatility that has enabled it to adapt itself to changing circumstances, and the vitality that has survived the death of sundry of its germs of life and has enabled it to keep on top through all the phases of party name and aspect, since the old Whig party gave up the ghost in 1844, until now it is keeping such effective vigil over so lively a corpse as the National Republican party. I hope the good old paper may live a thousand years, and that when "Azrael's hand shall fix upon her brow the seal of fate," her sturdy old sister, The Gazette, with principles and name unchanged, as heretofore, may weep, chief mourner at her funeral. Jest aside, Bedford has cause to be proud of both her journals. They are venerable in age, as the times go; they are both stalwart conservators of the peace, intelligence and good morals of the homes and state.

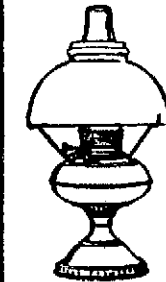

But we were talking of old houses. Daniel Lyberger, blacksmith, built the house, now Dexter White's, long, long ago. He was the father of the late venerable Mrs. Chapman.

Henry Hobbittzell built the one, late Espy M. Alsip's residence. John Reynolds built the one next—below Mrs. Harry's—late Colonel Hafer's, in what years I cannot say, probably from 1810 to 1825. Christopher Riley, built, about 1800, the yellow frame house just west of the Union Hotel, and taken down by Mr. Steckman, some years ago. Jacob Fulford, locksmith, built the house on West Pitt street, now Daniel Shuck's. It is also very old. The old classical Academy, now Dr. Enfield's residence, was built about 1818.

The Hofus house, now Mrs. Harry's; the Judge Walker house, part of present Union Hotel; the Schell house, now Odd Fellow hall; the Allegheny Bank of Bedford, now John Anderson's, were all built about 1812-16. The only house east of the Presbyterian church on Penn street, at an early day, except that of Samuel Riddle, now Barton house, stood diagonally opposite the Riddle house, on the present location of Miss Lyons' houses. John Claar, blacksmith, ninety years ago built that which with additions was, of late, the Middleton homestead. The old house of the Mann family, next the fort house, was built not less than eighty years ago, by Hon. David Mann, and occupied for a time by one Woodcock, clockmaker, reputed to be a most excellent man. There are many of his and Diehl's clocks existing in the county, noted as true time-keepers. The old Heckerman house, recently removed to the rear of its lot to make room for a grander building, was built in 1806 by Charles McDowell, Esq., the founder of The Gazette in 1805. ## MR. HORN'S LETTER

If Col. H. W. J. Ham, the famous Georgia orator, whom the people of the county will remember as an institute lecturer here some ten years ago, is still appearing before the footlights and needs an illustration of "topicality" to embellish and adorn his lecture on "The Snollygoster in Politics" he can find it in a letter recently sent out to Democrats of the county by Daniel S. Horn, Esq.

Mr. Horn's letter appears on another page of this issue and is worthy of study. "We want to put the Democratic party upon a winning basis" sounds well coming from one of a political triumvirate who conducted Bailey's campaign in this county in the interest, to all outward appearances, of John M. Reynolds last fall.

"You need not give this any publicity at this time as there is no necessity to precipitate a contest now unless it is forced upon us" is in keeping with "Snollygoster" politics. But the cloud which it was hoped would cast its shadow over the attempt to secure a dictatorship has been dissipated. Perhaps Mr. Horn should not be too severely censured, for it is not by any means certain that the idea originated with him. We are not certain that Caesar was wrong when he began his commentaries: "All Gaul (gall) is divided into three parts."

But further comment is unnecessary. The humiliation that must necessarily have followed the failure of a single district to file a petition is burden enough for any sentiment being to bear. There are times when men should be "left alone with their idols."

MUST CARRY FREIGHT

The Homsher Eminent Domain bill which requires trolleys to carry freight was passed during the closing hours of the Legislature and is now in the hands of the Governor. Since Governor Stuart repeatedly declared in favor of trolleys carrying freight it is confidently expected that his signature will be affixed.

The signing of this bill will bring about conditions that never should have been denied trolley companies. Under the conditions of this act trolley companies are not only allowed to carry freight but are compelled to do so.

The way is now open for the building of trolley lines in rural regions where, without permission to carry freight, the building of such roads was impossible. This is a victory for the people and will prove most beneficial. It gives farming an impetus since it will furnish rural farmers an opportunity to raise and market articles too perishable to be marketed under existing conditions. It is by all odds the most important bill passed during the session. The way is now open and our people should do all in their power to encourage any movement toward securing trolley roads.

STATE APPROPRIATIONS

The appropriations made at the session of the Legislature just closed aggregate $57,520,042.32. The general appropriation bill amounts to $25,522,763.05. For educational purposes, monuments, etc., the amount is $20,174,954.27. The new soldiers' pension bill, it is computed, will require $5,822,325.

The revenue of the state for the ensuing two years is estimated at about $41,000,000. The surplus in the treasury is more than $9,000,000, which will necessitate the Governor's cutting down about $7,000,000 or allow a deficit to be created.

HARRISBURG LETTER

judgment of Attorney General Todd, they made the measure unconstitutional.

The Senate yesterday passed finally the House bill, fixing the maximum rate of fare to be charged by street railways at five cents for a continuous ride in one car within the corporate limits of a city. The bill now goes to Governor Stuart for his approval.

A bill of interest to Philadelphia political circles that failed to get through the House of Representatives, owing to the deadlock between the two branches, was the Murphy bill, changing the order of succession in case of vacancy in the office of Mayor. The bill provided that the Director of Public Safety should be the first in order of succession, instead of the president of Select Council. It was introduced originally at the instigation of Senator McNichol and was regarded as a move to protect his political fences.

The Legislature concluded its work last night. All-night sessions of both branches were necessary to consider the large amount of unfinished business on the calendar and in committees. The work of the Legislature as to platform pledges is as follows:

Bills Passed

State Railroad Commission.
Trolley freight.
Two-cent railroad fare.
Enforcing Constitution regulating railroads.

Right of eminent domain for trolley companies.

Investigation of abandoned railroad and canal franchises.

Employers' liability.

Increased appropriation for maintenance and care of the insane.

Liberal appropriations for treatment of tuberculosis.

Appropriation of $15,000,000 for public schools.

Appropriation of $6,500,000 for public roads.

Establishment of criminal courts in first and second class cities.

Defeated or Killed in Committee

Limited franchises to public utility companies.

Return to counties of all personal property tax.

Return to counties of all license fees.

Extension of Shern political activity law to all county officers and employees.

Decennial apportionment of Philadelphia and second class cities into wards of equal population.

Prohibiting mercantile appraisers holding other offices.

FIRST PROTHONOTARY

Of Bedford County to Have $10,000 Statute at Former Home.

Last week the Senate passed finally a bill appropriating $10,000 for a bronze statue of Gen. Arthur St. Clair of Revolutionary War fame. The bill provides that the statue shall be of heroic size, modeled after the oil painting by Peale, in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, representing the uniform of a Revolutionary officer. It is to be mounted on a granite base and located in the public square in the borough of Ligonier, where General St. Clair lived for the greater part of his life.

Governor Stuart is authorized to appoint three commissioners to select the design and take charge of the erection of the statue. The bill has passed the House and now goes to the Governor. A similar bill was passed by the last legislature and vetoed by Governor Pennypacker because of a lack of funds.

Arthur St. Clair was the first Prothonotary of Bedford county, serving from 1771 to 1773.

ARNOLD-BRUSH

Former Cumberland Valley Boy Becomes a Benedict.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at noon, May 11, at the residence of Harvey Brush, in Washington, Pa., when his daughter, Elizabeth Brush, formerly a teacher of Prospect Hill school and a graduate of the State Normal School at Millersville, was united in marriage to Ralph Arnold of Altoona. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Brush, as bridesmaid and her sister, Miss Jennie June Brush, as maid of honor. The groom was attended by a brother of the bride, Oscar P. Brush, of Baltimore, as best man. Miss Edythe Arnold, a sister of the groom, of Juniata College, played during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a beautiful lace gown over white silk and carried a shower bouquet of white lilies. The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore gowns of white with pink and carried bouquets of pink lilies. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Gervin, pastor of the Church of God, and the home was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms.

Guests were present from West Chester, Lancaster, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Bedford, Millersville, Manor township and Washington. The happy couple will reside in Altoona. The Gazette extends congratulations.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beeler

Mrs. Elizabeth Beeler died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Green, in Liberty township on Monday, May 13, at the age of 75 years, six months and 13 days. The funeral services were held on Wednesday and the body taken to Ray's Cove for interment.

DIED

HEAD—At Latrobe on May 10, Mrs. Sarah Coulter Head; born at Everett 80 years ago.

BARTON—At McConnellsburg, May 12, Charles E. Barton, Supt. of Schools of Fulton county, aged 36 years. Former instructor at Shippenburg State Normal.

STINE—At Hollidaysburg, May 11, Esther A., widow of Harry Stine; born near Bloomfield, this county, 82 years ago. Deceased is survived by five sons.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Communication From Our Regular Correspondent

Washington, D. C., May 15.—It positively is astounding to people here in Washington who know President Roosevelt, at short range, to read about his popularity in the country at large, and the further away the more popular he seems to be. There must be something in that saying that "distance lends enchantment to the view." The closer you get to the man the less you will like him, for I do not know of one lovable trait he possesses, although he catches many men by his impulsive ways of doing things. He impulsively tells one man that he will do what is wanted of him, but the minute the man's back is turned and the man who does not want that thing done gets his ear, he just as impulsively goes back on what he said to the other man, and tells the second man that it shall be as he wishes. Thus, he is all things to all men and nothing very long.

He has made many grandstand plays about doing things that the people wanted, but none of the things he has done or advocated that has been of any practical benefit to the people, and I will name you a number that have been or would have been a detriment to the interest of the people. What good, so far, has the railroad rate bill been to the consumers and shippers of the country?

Every suit that has been brought against the combinations on the roads has been brought through the Elkins law or the Sherman anti-trust law, two laws that were on the statute books before the enactment of the railroad rate law and simply never had been enforced.

The people of this country have got the idea into their heads that Mr. Roosevelt is after the rich, the predatory rich, and that he is getting them a taste of the big stick. Well, he is not hurting them so bad as he is the people who are dependent on the growth of the railroads and their expansion and their ability to haul the crops to market. Mr. Roosevelt did not hesitate to take the money of the predatory rich, during the last presidential campaign, when he was chosen by vote with the whole bunch of them and hobnobbing with them as to the best way to win the election. After the election, however, he turns on them and, in order to make a grandstand play, he asserts that he is going to do things to them which scares capital into hiding and the railroads cannot borrow any money to make extensions or build new lines that are needed to haul the commerce of the country.

Regulation and control of railroads is all right. It is Democratic policy and Democratic doctrine stolen by a Republican administration to make it popular, and its popularity today is based on policies, doctrines, and ideas stolen from the Democratic platform. The Democratic platform, however, never advocated confiscation of the property of the predatory rich, or tried to wield the big stick to scare capital off the face of the earth. That is what Roosevelt has done in order to create a little cheap popularity.

You can take my word for it, the veneer will be washed off this political tin deity before his term expires and the people will know him as do the correspondents in Washington and the members of Congress. He has not a dozen friends in Congress, on either side of the political fence, but they are afraid to say their son is their own, on account of the patronage stick he wields. They, also, are playing the political game, and they dare not express their honest opinions. If they had the courage to do so, they would be astounded to know that four-fifths of the men to whom they express them would agree with them, and thus the so-called popularity of the President would vanish like thin smoke. It is this servile sycophancy of the members of Congress that maintains the popularity of the President out in the country, added to the servility of the daily press of the country in giving circulation to all the ideas and schemes hatched in the White House.

Whenever he wants to head off some one or some thing that interferes with his side of the political fence, he gets to the people with a grandstand play, he sends down for a bunch of newspaper correspondents for the papers that slobber on him and has them up to the White House. Then he pats them familiarly on the back and tells them in a heart to heart talk what he wants to get before the people, always making them write the matter in the third person and never quote him in the first person.

He then is in a position to deny anything that may come out that is not pleasing to him, which he does with a flourish of trumpets and thereby adds new members to his Ananias Club. He can not and does not fool a lot of the older correspondents here. They have looked in his trunk and they know him. But it is very interesting to the young correspondents to have the President of the United States pat them on the back and call them "old boy" and tell them what they believe to be the innermost secrets of the White House. They all go away and print the same story, thus heading off the story as it should have been told in the interest of the truth.

Everybody sees the same story in the papers all over the country, and they believe it to be true, else why should all the papers have printed it simultaneously. The man who could have told the truth about the matter has no show. He does not occupy the position of President of the United States, and if he were to come out with the truth the people would not believe him. So, what's the use, when they smell an automobile as it passed them on the road.

Here is a little chapter of the Chicago and Alton railroad deal that has been the leading sensation of the country for some time, past, that never has appeared in print so that the people could digest the truth. The administration of Theodore Roosevelt has proceeded against Mr. E. H. Harriman on account of this Chicago and Alton deal. Mr. Roosevelt is posing in the attitude of the people's avenger and trying to place Mr. Harriman in the attitude of a man who has been injuring them.

Now, what are the facts about this so-called deal?

It will be recalled that the Alton readjustment took place during Mr. Harriman's absence in Alaska. He has nevertheless been held by public opinion chiefly responsible for it, and his associates in the scheme, Messrs. Gould, Stillman, and Schiff, have, in a large measure, escaped the condemnation which has been his portion. The idea has prevailed that Mr. Harriman planned the deal before he left for Alaska, and that what took place during his absence was simply the carrying out of his ideas.

Mr. Harriman, to his credit be it said, has not sought to escape any blame which attaches to the transaction by shifting the burden upon the shoulders of his associates. His friends say, however, that upon his return from Alaska, he was, in fact, displeased at what had been done while he was away, feeling that a mistake had been made.

This, however, did not prevent him from going ahead with his accustomed energy to make a success of the transaction. The complete success depended upon making a market for the bonds which had been issued to the Harriman-Gould-Stillman-Schiff syndicate at 65.

It is said Mr. Harriman secured the passage by the state Legislature of a law extending the permissible savings bank investment to these Alton bonds. A fact of extraordinary interest in view of recent developments is that this law was signed by Gov. Theodore Roosevelt. Thus the signature of Roosevelt completed the Alton deal by giving the Alton bonds the prestige which attaches to a savings bank investment. Yet at this very time the essential facts of the Alton readjustment—stock, stock-watering, and all—had been made public.

Seven years later, as President of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt believed it to be his duty to proceed against Mr. Harriman and condemn this very deal which he himself, as Governor of New York, had helped to consummate. Chas. A. Edwards.

DR. JOHN H. WENGERT

Former Pavia Physician Dies at Windber.

After calling her husband to breakfast and not receiving a reply, Sunday morning, May 12, Mrs. Wengert, wife of Dr. John H. Wengert, a practicing physician at Windber, went to his room and found him dead in bed. His death was caused by heart trouble and he was aged 49 years.

Dr. Wengert and family moved to Windber about six years ago from Pavia, this county, where he had practiced his profession for twenty-three years. He was graduated from the Baltimore Medical College, and on March 10, 1880, was united in marriage to Miss Sadie Corle of Bedford. The ceremony was performed at St. Clairsville by the Rev. J. H. Zinn, a Lutheran minister. He leaves his wife, two children, his mother, residing in Blair county, and three brothers. His body was taken to the home of his mother for interment.

Mrs. Annie C. Hartley

Residents of Bedford learned with regret Sunday morning of the sudden death of Mrs. Annie C. Hartley at her home on East Pitt street, Saturday night, May 11. The cause of her death was heart trouble, from which she was a sufferer, and she was aged 76 years and 28 days. She was a daughter of Daniel and Sarah Washbaugh and was born in Bedford on April 13, 1831.

On September 16, 1851, she was united in marriage with Ambrose B. Cramer of Cumberland, for a number of years a prominent merchant at this place. After the death of Mr. Cramer, she made her home, for some time, in Everett. On June 6, 1894, she was married to John G. Hartley of Bedford, who departed this life October 20, 1897. Mrs. Hartley was an exemplary woman and one who commanded the highest respect of all. The Presbyterian church of this place has lost one of its regular and reverential members and the community a kind neighbor and friend.

She leaves one brother, Perry Washbaugh of Chester and five sisters: Mrs. Charlotte Wentz of Worcester, Mass.; Mrs. Jennie Shannon of Sioux City, Ia.; Mrs. Emily Crane of Columbia, Pa.; Mrs. Laura Douglass of Philadelphia and Mrs. Kate Barnard of Everett, all of whom were present at the funeral, which was held at the late home Tuesday afternoon, the services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. B. Townsend. Interment in the Bedford cemetery.

Mrs. Hettie McLucas

Mrs. Hettie McLucas died suddenly on Tuesday, May 7, at her home in Tecumseh (Everett), aged 73 years. She was born at Stone Point, Md., and was married to William McLucas, who died about 30 years ago. Mrs. McLucas has resided in Everett for about 25 years. She leaves five children: John, George, William, Mrs. Hattie Shoemaker and Mrs. William Chalfant. The funeral services were held at the Brethren church Thursday afternoon, May 9; interment in the Everett cemetery.

KILLED BY ENGINE

Former Bedford County Woman Meets Instant Death.

While picking coal on the railroad at Duncansville on Monday, Eliza J., widow of Henry Sturgeon, was struck by an engine and almost instantly killed.

Mrs. Eliza Jane Sturgeon was born in this county on January 11, 1852, and had resided in Duncansville for a number of years. She was thrice married. Her first union was with Charles Karle in this county and to this union one son, David, was born and survives. Her second marriage was with Fred Hartman, also of this county, who preceded her to the grave a number of years ago. In 1888 she married Henry Sturgeon whose death, as mentioned in The Gazette of May 3, occurred on April 28 at Duncansville. One daughter survives; also a sister and a brother, Mrs. Simon Reininger and Daniel Mauk, of Johnstown.

Philip Snyder

Philip Snyder died at the home of John Baughman in West Providence on Friday, May 10, aged 60 years and four days. He suffered a paralytic stroke early in the afternoon and lived only a few hours. Mr. Snyder was born in Monroe township May 6, 1827, being a son of John and Mary Snyder. He was married to Barbara Baughman, who died in February of this year.

Mr. Snyder was a resident of Everett and a paper hanger by occupation. Since the death of his wife he has made his home with Mr. Baughman. He was a member of the Trinity Reformed church of Everett since 1855 and served as elder since 1866. Besides one daughter, Kate, of Pittsburgh, he leaves two brothers, Henry of Black Valley and John W. of Everett. Funeral services were held at Trinity Reformed church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. D. S. LeMar. Interment in the Everett cemetery.

Peter R. Gephart

Peter R. Gephart died at his home near Rock Lick school house in Napier township of paralysis on May 8, aged 68 years, two months and 27 days. He married Miss Catharine Wentz and to them were born one son and four daughters—John Henry of New Paris, Susanah, wife of John Callahan of Ryot, Barbara Ellen, wife of William Geiser of Johnstown, Mary Jane, wife of Walter Custer, and Maggie May, wife of Howard Moore, of New Paris. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gephart and is survived by a brother, John Gephart of Centreville and a half brother, Solomon Gephart of New Paris.

Mr. Gephart was an obliging neighbor and honest in his dealings. His funeral, which occurred on May 11, was largely attended and was conducted by the Rev. A. A. Hilary in the M. E. church at New Paris. Interment was made in the Baptist cemetery. The pall bearers of this respected citizen were W. W. Studabaker, Adam Rose, J. I. Blackburn, E. D. Bowen, Martin Hinton and Ealy Custer. Caj.

Mrs. Mary Fochtman

Mrs. Mary Fochtman of near New Baltimore, departed this life on May first, aged 59 years. The cause of death was heart failure. Her husband died about 13 years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss eleven children, as follows: William of Juniata, Frank of Toppers Mill, John and Henry, of New Baltimore, Mrs. William Benning of near New Baltimore, Mrs. Sylvester Leonard of Connellsville and Misses Ella, Josephine, Celia, Mary and Rose, at home.

Funeral services were conducted Friday morning, May 3, and interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Rebecca Shaffer

Mrs. Rebecca May, widow of Henry Shaffer, died at the home of her son, Samuel Shaffer near Charlesville, on Wednesday, May 13, at the advanced age of 86 years and 24 days. A daughter of John and Mary Magdalene May, she was born in Colerain township, April 21, 1821. On November 28, 1844, she was united in marriage with Henry Shaffer, who died 17 years ago.

Mrs. Shaffer is survived by the following children: Mrs. Henry James of this place, Mrs. W. Scott Stuckey of Snake Spring, Samuel of Colerain, Mrs. S. N. Wertz of Marysville, O., Mrs. Harry Ott and John Shaffer, of Fostoria, O., and William Shaffer of Cumberland, Md. Also six brothers and sisters: Col. Lewis May of this place, Josiah of Bayard, W. Va.; N. C. of Fairmount City, Pa.; William of Mansfield, O.; John of Martinsburg, Mrs. Sophia Koontz of Arvilla, Ind., and Mrs. Sadie Kegg of Mansfield, O. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. E. H. Jones in the Lutheran church at Rainsburg at 10:30 o'clock this (Friday) morning.

Mrs. Shaffer was a consistent Christian and an estimable woman in every respect. She was a kind and loving mother and will be greatly missed, not only by the members of her own family but by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. William Morgart

Mrs. Mandilla Wolfe, wife of William Morgart, died of apoplexy at her home in West St. Clair township on Friday, May 10, aged 45 years, five months and nine days. She was a daughter of John and Mary Wolfe and was born December 1, 1861, near Fishertown; 26 years ago she was united in marriage with William Morgart.

She leaves nine children: Elsie, married and living in Westmoreland county; John, of Windber, Harry, Vernie, Alice, Raymond, Edgar, James and Ethel, at home. Also, seven brothers and sisters survive. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Evangelical church, Pleasantville, conducted by Rev. L. B. Rittenhouse. Mrs. Morgart was a kind and loving mother and a woman who won the respect of her neighbors and a large circle of friends.

BROADBRIM'S BUDGET

a few weeks since the keeper of an Italian grocery on the Bronx received a letter demanding a thousand dollars, and assuring him that if the money was not paid or information was given to the police, he and his family would be blown to pieces. He thought it was a bluff, so he paid no attention to it; that night he received another letter, which he handed to the police. The letter gave him 24 hours to comply with the demand; he did not comply and the following night a dynamite bomb was exploded under the front stoop which blew out the entire front of the house, killing the man and injuring a number of people. Do the gentlemen who have never heard of the "Black Hand" in Italy intend to shift the blame of that crime on the people of the United States? We have plenty of sinners of our own but not of this sort; no "Black Hand" for us.

"In time of peace prepare for war" was the admonition of the Father of his Country, George Washington. Yes, certainly, that's the way we do it. All the world knows that William, the present Emperor of Germany, is a man of peace, and, to convince the world how much he loves it, he sent us a second "Kronig Wilhelm," of 25,000 tons burden and 40,000 tons displacement; she is 700 feet long, over 50 feet wide and has comfortable accommodation for 3,000 passengers and is gauged for a speed of 25 knots an hour—and, in all the costly comforts which our modern civilization demands for wealthy travelers she is unsurpassed by the St. Regis or the Waldorf Astoria. She is a lovely peace-offering. She is a lovely peace-offering, beautiful to look at and not unpleasant to the touch, but, if any place that she visits desires a gentle scrap, she can furnish it on the half shell—a peace that passeth understanding. Abroadside from the ugly destroyers that bristle all over her would bring New York city a peace that the archangel's trumpet would scarcely disturb, and it would require about a thousand undertakers to finish the job. "Let us have peace." Broadbrim.

ATTENTION! FRUIT GROWERS.

Saturday, May 25; Turn Out and Aid the Cause.

At the next meeting of the Fruit Growers' Society to be held on Saturday, May 25, the officers for the coming year will be elected. The association meets the last Saturday of every month at 2 p. m. Last month only a few appeared, but should never happen again. The small grower should attend as well as the man with a thousand trees or more. There are so many things along the fruit line going on, a soil survey, etc.

The experiment station at State College would like to have an orchard of 5 or 10 acres and the owner willing to co-operate with them a little to try some cultural methods advanced by horticulturalists. They would like to have an orchard in every fruit section as an experimental orchard. They have such a place in Adams county and why not in Bedford, for certainly we produce as many apples as any county in the state? If this suits anyone, write to Prof. John P. Stewart, State College, Pa., who has charge of the work. This is a knock at every one's door, who will let him in?

It is up to the people to keep this organization going. Adams county has an organization of one hundred members, own their own hall and have an annual meeting equal to the State Horticultural meeting. Other counties have similar organizations and not one produces more fruit than old Bedford. It is a good thing to keep our own horns turned up ready for use. Yours truly, R. F. Lee.

Bury Me in the Morning

By Stephen A. Douglass—"The Little Giant."
Bury me in the morning, mother;
Oh, let me have the light
On one bright day on my grave,
Mother,
Ere you leave me alone with the night!

"Tis a thought of terrible fear;
And you will be here all alone,
Mother,
And stars will be shining here;
So bury me in the morning, mother,
And let me have the light,
Of one bright day on my grave,
Mother,
Ere I'm alone with the night.

You tell me of a Savior's love,
Mother,
I feel it in my heart—
But, oh! from this beautiful world,
Mother,
'Tis hard for the young to part;
For even to part when here, mother,
The soul is fain to stray;
For the grave is deep and dark,
Mother,
And Heaven seems far away.

Then bury me in the morning, mother,
And let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave,
Mother,
Ere I'm alone with the night.

Pennsylvania Railroad

Bulletin.

LOW-RATE TOUR TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

The International Christian Endeavor Convention will be held in Seattle July 10 to 15.

The fares named by the transcontinental railroads for this occasion enables the Pennsylvania Railroad to offer a Personally-Conducted Tour to Seattle and the Pacific Coast at unusually low rates.

A special train of the highest grade Pullman sleeping cars and dining car will leave New York July 5, running via Chicago, St. Paul, and the Northern Pacific Railway.

Round-trip tickets, including Pullman accommodations, double berth, and all meals in the dining car en route to Seattle on special train, and railroad transportation only returning via direct routes, will be sold at rate of $112.75 from New York, $111.25 from Philadelphia, $108.00 from Baltimore, Washington and Harrisburg, $107.20 from Altoona, and proportionate rates from other points.

Passengers will return from Seattle independently on regular trains. Those desiring to return via San Francisco or Los Angeles may do so for $12.50 additional.

A transcontinental tour is a great educational experience. The northwestern country is in a most interesting stage of development just now and a visit to that section will prove not only enjoyable but profitable.

A rare opportunity for such a trip is here presented. The rate is exceptionally low, and includes the advantage of a special through train to the Pacific Coast.

For itineraries, tickets, and full information, apply to Ticket Agents, or address Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Philadelphia.

Lincoln's Rebuke.

The saying that there are few honest lawyers did not hold true in the case of Lincoln. A man once called to retain him on a suit.

"State your case," said honest Abe. The man did, and then Lincoln said: "I cannot represent you, for you are wrong, and the other party is right."

"That is none of your business if I employ you," said the client.

"Pardon me," said the man who afterward became president; "my business is never to defend wrong. I never take a case that is manifestly wrong."

"Well, but you can make trouble for the other fellow."

"Yes," said Lincoln, "I can set a whole community at loggerheads, I can make trouble for this widow and her fatherless children and by so doing get you $500 that rightfully belongs to her, but I won't do it."

"Not if I pay you well?"

"Not for all the money you are worth," was the reply.

A Warrior Too.

The wooden boards that had marked the graves in a certain rural cemetery rotted off and were raked up in the spring cleaning. Consequently on Memorial day when the delegation from the G. A. R. arrived with flags and appropriate floral decorations for their departed comrades the decorating committee found itself somewhat in doubt as to which grave belonged to Captain Blodgett and which to Hannah Ericson. The mistaken delegates heaped their offerings upon Hannah's last resting place and departed. That afternoon Ericson, the widow, drifted, with the rest of his world, to the cemetery. When he saw the flag and the flowers above Hannah he astonished Swede fell to chuckling joyously.

"Well," he exclaimed delightedly, "those fallen bane pooty smart foot Ay tank dat vor all right and some gude yoke on Hannah—he vor pooty gude fighter herself."—Youth's Companion.

Devonshire Terrace.

Dickens was twenty-seven years old when, in 1839, he moved from Doughty street to Devonshire terrace. George du Maurier lived for some years in 1 Devonshire terrace. In this celebrated house Dickens wrote no fewer than ten of his books—"The Old Curiosity Shop," "Barnaby Rudge," "The Christmas Carol," "American Notes," "Martin Chuzzlewit," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "The Battle of Life," "Dombey and Son," "The Cricket on the Hearth" and "David Copperfield." Devonshire terrace was situated at the corner of the Marylebone road and used to be called the smallest terrace in London.

It Varied.

The late Judge Saunders of North Carolina was noted as an angler, but he had a poor memory as to the weight of the fish he had taken. On one occasion a friend, trying to entrap him, said, "Say, judge, what was the weight of that big catfish you caught the other day?"

The judge turned to his waiter and said, "Bob, what did I say that catfish weighed?"

"What time yesterday, boss—in de mawmin', at dinner or after suppah?"

The Moon.

Astronomers long since came to the conclusion that the moon's surface is very hot during the height of the lunar day, which, as will be remembered, lasts two weeks, and very cold during the lunar night, which is equally long. These extremes of temperature reach their height at the lunar noon and midnight and are greater than any natural temperatures on the earth.

The Goller.

Bertie (to caddy, searching for lost ball)—What are you looking there for? Why, I must have driven it fifty yards farther! Diplomatic Caddy—But some times they hit a stone, sir, and bounce back a terrible distance.

Willing to See.

Mrs. Enpeck—The philosophers tell us that blessings often come to us in disguise. Mr. Enpeck (with a sudden show of spirit)—Maria, when are you going to unmask?

The Pale.

Body Found After Six Months

The body of William Andrews was found under a big log near Addison, Somerset county, Monday morning. He disappeared last November while working in a lumber camp, and search made for him failed to bring about any trace. The immense trunk of the tree which he had felled completely covered his body.

OLD HOME WEEK

BEDFORD, PA.

D. C. REILEY, ESQ., Secretary.

DEAR SIR:—It is my intention to be at Bedford's Old Home Week Celebration, August 7, 8 and 9, 1907.

Name

Address

I will be accompanied by

Bedford Gazette

Fyan

May 15.—Several of our farmers have finished planting corn.

R. S. and C. S. Hillegass, of Jerusalem Valley, spent Sunday in our midst.

Peter Hillegass and daughter spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Harmond's Bottom.

Isaac Pierson of Bedford, representing the International Harvester Co., was calling on the farmers in our vicinity the past week.

The smiling face of Daniel Young of Jerusalem Valley was seen in our vicinity recently.

A number of our young people went fishing Ascension Day, but the catch was light.

Mrs. Sylvia Beltz is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Peter Hillegass.

Calvin Wolford of near New Buena Vista made a business mission through our vicinity Friday afternoon.

Quite a number of our people attended church at the Mullin school house Sunday evening. Rev. Yoder delivered an interesting sermon.

Jacob Eby, wife and two daughters and Miss Carrie Cable attended the Sunday school convention at Martinsburg from Thursday to Monday.

Harry Deaner is spending a few days with his uncle, W. H. Deaner.

Ralph McCreary, wife and son expect to go to Johnstown this week for a few days' visit.

George Ingrand recently finished his large wagon shed, which adds greatly to the appearance of the property.

Simon McCreary left for Windber and Johnstown this morning with a load of produce. Simon reports prices good.

Hillegass & Deaner expect to start out in a few days with their new machine, chipping sheep for their farmers.

Defiance

May 16—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Craig, of Altoona, spent several days of this week in and about our village. On Tuesday they, in company with Mrs. H. H. Brumbaugh and John Brumbaugh spent the day very pleasantly along the river at Riddlesburg, where they succeeded in landing 10 fish and two eels.

Patrick Sloan went to housekeeping again in his house on Main street and Isaac Walls, who had occupied the house, has moved in with Mrs. Kate Wise on Second street.

Edward Brennan has material on the ground for repairing the fence around his lot on Main street.

J. L. Tenley is one of the busiest men in our town these fine days, hauling coal and plowing lots for our townfolks during the day and in the evenings settling disputes between quarrelsome neighbors—not of our town, however.

Prof. J. A. Wright will address the Broad Top Brotherhood Friday night, May 17. A full turnout is expected.

Miss Effie Fetter will give a lawn social Saturday evening, May 18.

Defiance has two baseball teams, both of which are under the management of Stanley Wagner.

We have no use for the "white cap" and the "black hand" business but any man who beats his wife and poor, innocent child, as it is reported, a certain man of our village has done, does not deserve anything better, and if the beating does not stop very soon the justice of the Peace is likely to get some business to do.

Prof. H. D. Metzger's singing class of about 70 pupils is doing finely.

Rev. R. C. Peters preached an excellent sermon last Sunday night on "The Face of Jesus." This was his last sermon that he preached prior to taking his trip to the Old World. We join in wishing him a safe and a profitable trip.

Point

May 15.—There is considerable excitement among the people on Tull's Hill in regard to some parties who have been making a survey in that community and report that coal, gas and oil are there. It is reported that there will be some boring done some time in the near future; we hope it will prove successful.

Hon. Jacob H. Longenecker will deliver the address at Schellsburg on Memorial day. The Schellsburg band will furnish the music. A select choir is practicing some new music which will be entertaining. The comrades are requested to meet at the Hall at 1 o'clock p. m., where the Patriotic Sons of America, Odd Fellows and Sunday schools will assemble and march to the church promptly at 1:30. All old comrades are earnestly requested to turn out with us and help decorate the graves of our noble dead. Schellsburg Memorial services have always been well attended in the past. Don't let us fail this year.

Schellsburg

May 14.—Corn planting, garden making and house-cleaning are the order of the day at present.

C. Garmon Johnston, who had been working in Ohio, is home with a sore hand.

Dr. E. L. Smith and wife visited friends at Alum Bank last Friday.

Misses Mary O. Reeve and Emma M. Conley spent Tuesday in Bedford.

Mrs. R. L. Williams and Mrs. Lyle Egolf are visiting with friends at Mann's Choice part of this week.

Rush G. Egolf has returned home, having spent several days in Ohio and Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Taylor, of New Paris, visited their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Keyser, on Tuesday.

The old church on the hill is being treated to a new coat of paint, which will add greatly to its appearance.

Our band boys are practicing and getting in tune to give us some good music on May 30.

W. C. Keyser was in Cumberland Tuesday and came home overland with a new horse.

Harry B. Hall is putting a new roof on his house.

C. L. Colvin is hauling stone for the foundation of his new stable.

Our prices are right. If you want printing of quality, give us a trial.

Rheumatism

Badly Cripples a Baldwinsville Farmer

URIC-O QUICKLY CURED HIM

Treated Two Years with a High-Priced Physician with No Success.

Mr. Frank Howe, a prominent farmer in the town of Van Buren, says: "I visited the best physician in this country, who treated me for about two years for rheumatism. I spent in that time several hundred dollars and seemed to grow worse instead of better each day. Being on crutches and forced to drive to the train and hobbling to the doctor's office became very discouraging, let alone the sleepless nights and fearful hours of pain. Being advised by a friend I purchased Smith's Uric-O prescription, took it home and used it that day as directed.

"Those fearful sciatic pains left me, my blood seemed to let loose and flow freely, I felt different and knew the next morning I had found a cure, as I slept and rested well all that night, something I had not done before in two years. I used in all six bottles of Uric-O and have never felt a return of the disease, had no use for crutches or cane since the first day's treatment.

I have since recovered of Uric-O to hundreds of friends and acquaintances and in every instance it gave remarkable relief. To every person who suffers from Rheumatism I say, take Uric-O at once and your suffering will soon end.

"I RANK HOWE, Baldwinsville, N. Y. Anyone who doubts Mr. Howe's experience is invited to write him for further details.

The manufacturers have so much confidence in the remedy that they will gladly give a large 75c bottle of Uric-O free to all rheumatics who have never used it and are looking for a permanent, lasting cure for this most distressing disease. Address for free trial, Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Uric-O is sold and personally recommended in Bedford by F. W. Jordan. May 17-2t.

A FOND FAREWELL

Farewell to thee, my sunny land,
To thee I bid a fond farewell;
My pleasures here with thee were grand,
But time will make them grander still.

Thou know'st all that I do know,
For thou hast been my teacher dear;
Thy schools of nature, I've been thru,
Beneath thy sky so blue and clear.

Thou art the spot where I was born;
Here dawned for me, life's little day;
Here, in my childhood's early morn,
My mother taught me how to pray.

Each plant, that from thy soil arose,
Has flourished like an Eden tree;
Rich fruit of pleasure on thy grows,
But none has been so bidden me.

I've wandered thru thy meadows green,
Beside of every running brook;
Thy buds and blossoms, I have seen,
In every green and shady nook.

I've joined in every sport of thine;
I've eaten from each fruitful tree;
I need no beverage from the vine—
Thy crystal springs suffice for me.

And thy dear birds: how much of joy
Have their sweet anthems brought
To me;
For me, a careless, thoughtless boy,
They've echoed from each leafy tree.

Thy flowers, too, how pure and sweet
And fragrant, is their rich perfume!
Yet they will be far more complete
In their decay than in their bloom.

And when the sun had disappeared,
And earthly things with dew were damp,
With admiration, I have heard
Thy frogs in yonder meadow swamp.

The very weeds that in thee stand,
On which I've trod with boyish gloe,
Now prove a pleasure, rich and grand,
Since I'm about to part from thee.

And last of all, but not the least,
Are those dear friends, who with thee dwell;
My love for them has been increased,
To think of bidding them "farewell."

Oh, gracious Past! how fleet art thou,
How soon didst thou thy flight pursue!
How short the time, expiring now;
How fond the friendships, and how true.

Then "fare-thee-well!" my sunny land,
And "farewell" all that with thee stay;
May He who all things else has planned,
Still plan thy bright and sunny way.

And thanks to Thee, my Savior dear,
For all Thy goodness shown to me;
For Thou hast planned pleasures here,
And all the praise belongs to Thee.

—Calvin W. Diehl.

A MAJESTIC SEA-LINE

Wonderful Array of Battleships on Hampton Roads.

Never yet has Norfolk—of old the port of naval rendezvous—witnessed so imposing an assemblage of war craft as now lies in the harbor between Old Point Comfort and the Exposition grounds. Though but the advance guard of the great gathering of fleets that will be here during the Exposition, the fleet is impressive not only for its numbers and power but by reason of the fact that it is wholly American. Sixteen first-class battleships strung along a line extending three miles, with a number of secondary craft, make up this stupendous array of the nation's ocean power, presenting a spectacle to stir the soul of patriotism. Other ships are daily lengthening this majestic line, and never before have Americans been privileged to witness the power of the nation in such compact concourse.

This fleet constitutes the greatest assemblage of American warships ever held. It is the great new navy on parade; the new navy with which the nation has assumed the second place among the naval powers of the earth. The fleet is manned with over five hundred officers and thirteen thousand men. Twenty abreast, this splendid host of American seamen on the march would take two hours to pass a given point.

The passage through this formidable line, on one of the many ferry boats that ply on Norfolk harbor, will arouse the amazed interest of the dullest and one feels that the nation can never go wrong while such ships and such men stand sentinels at its sea gates. There is, already, a grand exposition on the waters of Hampton Roads worth alone a trip across the continent to witness.

REACH THE SPOT.

To cure an aching back, The pains of rheumatism, The tired-out feelings, You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Charles Bierbach, stone contractor, living at 2625 Chestnut St., Erie, Pa., says: "For two years I had kidney trouble, and there was such a severe pain through my loins and limbs that I could not stoop or straighten up without great pain, had difficulty in getting about and was unable to rest at night, arising in the morning tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. Doctors treated me for rheumatism, but failed to help me. I lost all confidence in medicine, but Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me so quickly and so thoroughly that I gladly made a statement to that effect for publication. This was in 1908, and during the six years which have elapsed I have never known Doan's Kidney Pills to fail."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Bierbach will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address: Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Skirt Cleaning

To clean a skirt, slip it over an ironing board, then apply the cleaning fluid with a soft woolen cloth. It is much better to use a piece of material like the skirt if it can be procured.

"BLUE DEVILS"

Get Rid of Indigestion and Things Will Look Bright and Joyous.

Everything looks gloomy and dark to the person suffering with indigestion. Until the prescription known as Mi-o-na stomach tablets was put up in popular form as a safe and effective cure for sick headache, indigestion and stomach troubles, the "blue devils" made everything look dark, gloomy and depressing.

After a few days' use of Mi-o-na the sick headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, distress after eating—all these symptoms of a weak stomach—will disappear, and with perfect digestion there will be a joyous and beautiful outlook.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold only in a neat metal box convenient for the vest pocket and cost 50 cents. F. W. Jordan has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na stomach tablets that he gives a guarantee with every box that the money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction. May 10-2t.

DISTURBED THE CONGREGATION

The person who disturbed the congregation last Sunday by continually coughing is requested to buy a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Falling Into Hole In Air.

One of the strange experiences of a balloonist is that of falling into "a hole in the air," which Mr. Kolker reports as follows: "So you continue sailing, enjoying the present with little thought of the startling surprises that may be before you. Ahead of you, unseen, may be what the balloonist calls a 'hole in the air,' resembling the vortex of a maelstrom, and down this you may literally fall at a rate which is terrifying until by sacrificing two or three bags of sand at once your pilot checks your downward flight. But these 'holes' are scarce, and as a rule the atmosphere is of uniform carrying power."—American Magazine.

BOON FOR SKIN SUFFERERS

Based on the knowledge that diseases of the skin must be treated through the skin, D. D. D. Prescription strikes the germ that eats into the weak cuticle, and by destroying it destroys the cause of the disease. Though mild as a gargle and cleanly as pure water, D. D. D. Prescription is a powerful liquid in combating the germs of eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, ringworm, dandruff and all forms of rash.

Originally a doctor's prescription, it is manufactured so that it may reach every body, and is not therefore a "patent" medicine. Unprejudiced doctors prescribe it freely. No extravagant claims are made for it. Its strongest recommendation comes from thousands of persons who have been cured and their letters will be shown you at our drug store.

"I wish to state that D. D. D. has given wonderful results," says Henry Kazy, of 617 Shawnee Street, Leavenworth, Kan. "As I am a barber in business I recommend it to all my customers, and it has given satisfaction to all."

Get a bottle of D. D. D. today, and it will give you INSTANT relief. F. W. Jordan, Bedford, Pa.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve does not merely heal on the surface, it penetrates the pores and promptly relieves pain, caused by boils, burns, scalds, cuts and skin diseases. It is especially good for piles. Beware of imitations. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Crushing a Critic.

School superintendents in New York among their many duties are expected to report on the personality of the teachers in their district. It is not always easy to get "a line" on that quality of a teacher, so many are lenient in the work. One of the superintendents, however, is never satisfied until he has made the test for orderliness by asking the teacher to open his or her desk. One day he found one of his fair subordinates with things in great confusion. She was evidently violating heaven's first law.

"My dear," said he to the blushing delinquent, "I don't believe you would make a good housekeeper."

The desk closed with a bang. There was fire in her eye as she calmly replied:

"Oh! Are you looking for a housekeeper?"—New York Press.

Patti's First Audience.

Adelina Patti once gave the following account of her first audience: At six years of age I was a prima donna of the nursery. When I had been put to bed on my return home with my father and mother from the opera I used to make sure that they and the rest of the family were asleep, and then I would hop out from beneath the counterpane and fancy myself a great cantatrice, bowing before the plaudits of a huge audience. I admit my audience was a little apathetic, but, after all, that is not to be wondered at, for they were only a row of dolls which I had ranged on chairs before me.

Spring Winds chap, tan and cause freckles to appear. Pinesalve Carbolicized applied at night will relieve that burning sensation. Nature's own remedy Acts like a poultice and draws out inflammation. Sold by Irvine's Drug Store.

YOUNG MEN'S OPPORTUNITIES.

Greater Chances Today Than Were Presented Their Fathers When They Were Young.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 17.—The young man of today has a hundred more chances to better his condition than had his father when he was a young man—opportunities that are golden and in which there is not the least chance of losing. Any young man who is ambitious can soon rank in the front with the wealthy men of our day. In place cases out of ten the wealthy men you see or read about made their start on a few dollars, but they put their few dollars in a safe investment, and in the majority of instances real estate was their key to fortune.

Really is the one tangible investment. True, it lacks the spectacular phases of the stock market. It has none of the pyrotechnical qualities of mining and plantation schemes and it does not, as a rule, make a man suddenly wealthy. Really is a commodity that increases in value as the surrounding territory, or the territory in which it is located, builds up, and with the improvements come the increase in value.

The young men back in the sixties and seventies who were wise enough to see the future of downtown Pittsburg, invested a few hundred dollars in real estate and today the same really they bought as low as $400 a foot front is worth from $15,000 to $20,000 a foot, or a property that cost $10,000 then today is worth $300,000 to $500,000, and they had the rent coming in each year, too.

Pittsburg is the city of golden opportunities, and during the past ten years millions of dollars have been made in her realty. The young man of today will find in Pittsburg really the opportunity of his life, and his greatest opportunity is in Arlington Park. Arlington Park adjoins Wilmerding, the great Westinghouse town where thousands are employed and where a new addition is being built that will give employment to many more. East McKeesport adjoins it and McKeesport, the home of many industries, including the National Tube Plant, to which a $10,000,000 addition is being built. When completed this addition will employ 5,000 additional men. So that, roughly estimated, over 7,000 homes will be needed for the employees of the two plants mentioned. Arlington Park is the logical home site for these—there are no more available building sites in McKeesport or Wilmerding, and Arlington Park, offering every convenience of the city, will be their home site.

The new Highland Grove car line passes through Arlington Park and brings all the Westinghouse plants within a few minutes' ride.

Investors or builders can make money in Arlington Park. Here, acre lots containing from 10 to 15 city lots, can be purchased now for $800 and upwards. $25 secures any lot—$8 to $25 a month pays for it.

Young man, it's your opportunity. Write today for booklet—tells all about this great money-making opportunity, and how to get a free trip to Pittsburg.

NOTICE

In the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford County.

Notice is hereby given that George H. Appleman and others, Commissioners in and for Bedford county, have presented their petition to the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford county, Pennsylvania, praying for an order of said court to them to be directed to sell the iron ore right in a certain tract of land in Bedford township, Bedford county, Pennsylvania, containing two hundred and fifty-seven acres and known as the Old Poor House property, said property being situated east of the Borough of Bedford, in Bedford township aforesaid, adjoining lands of D. W. Prosser, Cam Smith and others, the surface of which is now owned by Patrick Donahoe.

Whereupon, upon due consideration, the court did fix the 29th day of May, 1907, at one o'clock p. m. of said day and the Court House in Bedford as the place for the hearing of the said application and directed that notice of said hearing be published in accordance with said decree, when and where all persons having any interest in the said application may appear in person or by counsel and be heard.

Attest: By the Court, G. W. DERRICK, J. M. WOODS, Clerk. President Judge.

E. M. PENNELL, County Solicitor. May 10-3t.

TO FRUIT GROWERS

Former Bedford Councillor Writes Letter From Kansas.

Rosedale, Kan., April 22, 1907.
Mr. Charles A. Wertz,
Bedford, Penna.

Dear Sir:—Permit me, as an old Bedford county man whose first lessons in horticulture were learned in the north part of your county, to greet you who are engaged in the laudable industry of fruit growing. Sixty years ago my father planted possibly the largest peach and apple orchard ever planted in Morrison's Cove up to that time. As a lad of a dozen years, I assisted in the work and have been thus engaged all the years since, save the present. How successful, I will say that I have been engaged and assisted in planting over one thousand acres in a single plant. I am still interested in this work, as are all my family; that we have been successful goes without saying.

My father planted 700 peach trees on the ridge two miles west of Woodbury (all seedlings); they came into bearing but, owing to no means of shipping or market for the crop, we decided that fruit raising for profit in Pennsylvania did not pay and, consequently, was a failure.

Here, conditions are different—with budding varieties, good markets, advanced ideas in handling fruit, shipping facilities, etc., the highest success was attainable. Here it is not all a bed of roses. We have occasional losses of crops and just now we are in bad shape, being at a low temperature—20 degrees on the morning of the 9th inst., when our peaches were shedding and our apples, pears and plums were in full bloom, with one of the best prospects for a crop ever witnessed. All this was changed and now the question is: Will we have anything? There is still some chance for berries, apples and pears—but will they hang? Will they not drop? Time will tell! These, my brother, are some of the misfortunes that occasionally attend our profession.

By the papers I see this condition exists a very widely extended area. I hope your elevation may be of advantage to you in this respect and that you may have escaped our unfortunate condition. I will send you, under separate cover, one of our papers. You will see that I have a department which I have conducted since the origin of the paper. It has been a real pleasure to be identified with horticultural societies for nearly 40 years. I have just closed a two years' term as president of our Kansas state society. But I must not trespass on your time; having been a citizen in your county is my excuse—pardon me. Fraternally yours,
Frank Holsinger.

CATARH CAN BE CURED

Kill the Germs by Breathing Hy-o-mei—Gives Quick Relief.

Many people who have suffered with catarrh for years naturally think they cannot be cured, and become discouraged.

The reason they have failed of cure is because they have not treated the disease with the local remedy, Hy-o-mei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler so that its healing medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells, kills all bacteria germs and restores the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs to a healthy condition.

Catarrh is really a local disease and to cure it, it must be treated by a remedy which reaches every spot in the nose and throat where the disease germs lodge. Hy-o-mei does this and gives relief from the first day's use.

A complete Hy-o-mei outfit costs but $1.00 and F. W. Jordan gives a guarantee with every package to refund the money unless it cures.
May 10-2t.

There are many kidney remedies but few that accomplish the result. "Pineules" is a kidney remedy that contains no alcohol or opiates of any kind, complies with the National Pure Food and Drugs Law, guaranteed to give satisfaction. Thirty day treatment for $1.00. Inquire about "Pineules." Sold by Irvine's Drug Store.

For a cold or cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is BETTER than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

In the treatment of piles it becomes necessary to have the remedy put up in such a form that it can be applied to the parts affected. Man Zan Pile remedy is encased in a collapsible tube with nozzle attached. It cannot help but reach the spot. Relieves blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, 50c with nozzle guaranteed. Try it. Sold at Irvine's Drug Store.

In Memoriam

Resolutions of respect upon the death of Isabel, wife of William W. Morris, who departed this life April 12, 1907, aged 45 years, six months and 10 days.

Whereas, Death has again visited us and taken from our midst another highly esteemed member of the Morris reunion, therefore, with sad hearts but pleasant memories, as a tribute of love and respect to our departed sister, be it

Resolved, That we, as a body, bow in humble submission to the will of our heavenly father and say, "Thy will be done," and

Resolved, That we tender our earnest and heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and commend them, for consolation, to Him who doeth all things well, and

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased, be placed upon our records and be published in the county papers.

Free samples of "Preventics" and a booklet on Colds will be gladly mailed you, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., simply to prove merit. Preventics are Little Candy Cold Cure tablets. No Quinine, no Laxative, nothing harmful whatever. Preventics prevent colds—as the name implies—when taken early, or at the "Sneeze Stage." For a seated cold or LaGrippe, break it up safely and quickly with Preventics. Sold by all dealers.

Best Books Cheapest

Seriously speaking books are so cheap nowadays that poverty is no excuse for ignorance. And, what is excellent, the best books are cheapest. The new reprints of standard and classical authors in every department of literature put the world of knowledge within the reach of the working man, whereas formerly books were the luxury of wealth.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Made Perfect by Practice

A Neapolitan woman will carry on her head a vessel full of water to the very brim, over a rough road, and not spill a drop of it.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Care of Clothing

Air your dresses well and they will never seem stuffy. Clothes never should be shut up in a wardrobe immediately after they have been worn. Let the bodice of a dress hang over the back of a chair for at least half an hour before putting it away. The oldest clothes can be kept fresh and odorless if they are treated this way.

When your food has not been properly digested the entire system is impaired in the same proportion. Your stomach needs help. Kodol For Indigestion and Dyspepsia not only digests what you eat, it tones the stomach and adds strength to the whole body. Makes rich, pure blood. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Egg Roll

Rub one tablespoonful each of butter and lard into one pint of flour, add one teaspoonful of baking powder and one-half of salt, beat one egg and add eight tablespoonfuls of milk, stir this into the flour, knead lightly, roll and cut into two-inch squares; cut across the centre of each roll, brush with sugar water and bake fifteen minutes.

In using a cough syrup, why not get the best? one that comes highly recommended is Bees Laxative Cough Syrup, contains Honey and Tar and is superior to other cough syrups in many ways. Children always like it because it contains no opiates, is a laxative and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money refunded. Try it. Sold at Irvine's Drug Store.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood, and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Our New Bullet

The new bullet to be used by the United States has a long, tapering point instead of a rounded one. It is much lighter and has a greater velocity.

Nasal Catarrh, an inflammation of the delicate membrane lining the air-passages, is not cured by any mixtures taken into the stomach. Don't waste time on them. Take Ely's Cream Balm through the nostrils, so that the fevered, swollen tissues are reached at once. Never mind how long you have suffered nor how often you have been disappointed, we know Ely's Cream Balm will cure you as it has cured others by the thousand. All druggists, 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, N. Y.

A BROAD STATEMENT

This announcement is made without any qualifications. Hem-Roid is the one preparation in the world that guarantees it.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid will cure any case of Piles. It is in the form of a tablet.

It is the only Pile remedy used internally. It is impossible to cure an established case of Piles with ointments, suppositories, injections, or outward appliances.

A guarantee is issued with every package of Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, which contains a month's treatment.

Go and talk to F. W. Jordan about it. Price $1.00. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Niagara Falls, N. Y.

When Dogs Were Cooks.

"There was a time," said the antiquarian, "when dogs did our roasting for us—at least they kept the meat turning so it would not burn. 'Spit dogs' they were called, and we call their descendants 'spitz' to this day. Spit dogs were trained to turn the spits on which roasted chickens, beef, ducks and turkeys. The little fellows did their work well. They were never known to let a fowl burn or to snatch a mouthful or two from it. As late as 1816 spit dogs were employed in the old Philadelphia inns on Second and Third streets."

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

BEDFORD IN YE OLDEN TIME

great-grandson. What would the old gentleman say could he see Elwood voting? The old house was subsequently the Presbyterian parsonage. The old, one-story house since Bollinger's, with second story added, was in 1805 the drug store of a Dr. George Foulke. The discovery of the Bedford Springs lay between him and Jacob Fletcher, who was a typical "Izaak Walton," and an eccentric character in his day. Henry Wertz owned the springs property and the "Rising Sun"—the Fort House—about 1790. He built the stone or northeast end of it. Thomas Moore, Walter F.'s grandfather, built the south or brick end of the Rising Sun in 1812 and kept the inn. The Martha Campbell house on East Pitt street, late belonging to Barclay & Kegg, is at least one hundred years old. Miss Campbell, a decayed gentlewoman, who died forty years ago aged nearly ninety, owned it, and had barely income enough to enable her, by careful economy, to live. She was a granddaughter or great-granddaughter of one of the Dukes of Argyll, the family name of which house is Campbell. She had several relics descended from her ancestors, amongst other articles some old silver plate, several pieces of which are now in the possession of William C. Kean, one of her grand-nephews. Amongst other heirlooms she had an enormously large ring, such as used to be worn on the thumb as a signet, by kings and noblemen. It had belonged to her grandfather or to some previous ancestor. It was a stone, mounted in a richly wrought gallery setting of fine gold and of exquisite beauty. I saw it in 1845 and although the setting seemed very decidedly blue for an amethyst, as Miss Campbell supposed it was and as I, with my then limited knowledge of gems, thought it, we were mistaken. Had it been such, its value as a set might have been fifty dollars. A grand-nephew of hers, now dead, had a fancy for the jewel and she gave it to him. Being in St. Louis soon after and out of funds, he proposed to pledge the ring to a jeweler of his acquaintance for twenty-five dollars, and was surprised to receive the offer of twelve hundred dollars for it. The stone was a sapphire of the first water, and it ended in his having the stone exchanged for an amethyst and a payment of sixteen hundred dollars. I have since learned by pricing sapphires of the same size that it was worth more than as many thousands. The old lady never knew the value of her ring. She died, leaving her house to her niece, Mrs. Kean, with enough to give her burial and erect a decent memorial over her head. Such is destiny.

A POOR ORGAN

Dam(s) the bile. That's what your liver does if it's torpid. Then the bile overflows into the blood—poisons your system, causing sick-headache, biliousness, sallow skin, coated tongue, sick stomach, dizziness, fainting spells, etc. Ramon's treatment of Liver Pills and Tonic Pellets strengthens the liver and makes it do its own work. Prevents and cures these troubles. It aids—doesn't force. Entire treatment 25c.—J. R. Irvine & Co.

The Servant Question.

The proud millionaire entered his garage haughtily. "Francis," he said, "you took out the new sixty horsepower again last night without permission. I'm afraid I'll have to get another chauffeur."

"I wish you would, sir," Francis answered. "With those four big cars there's quite enough work for two of us."—New York Press.

Historic New York.

New York city has more points of historical interest than any other city on the continent, there being scores of them, extending from Fort Amsterdam, where the new custom house stands, at the Battery, on the south, to Fort George, Fort Washington and the Van Cortlandt manor house on the north.

Equalized.

The larynx of man is twice the size on an average of the same organ in woman, although this disproportion is equalized by the fact that woman uses her larynx a little more than twice as much as man.

Not Needed.

"I have here a neat and pretty little letter opener," began the agent.
"So have I at home," said the business man sadly. "I'm married."

"Here's to your health and happiness,"—DeWitt's Little Early Risers—famous little pills. Nasty, sick headache or biliousness may come on any time; the cure is an Early Riser. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson of Williamstown, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute kidney trouble. Ed. D. Heckerman.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Roudabush
Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary.

Friday morning, May 10, 1907, a host of friends and children of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Roudabush began to congregate at their pleasant home in St. Clairsville to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day.

On May 10, 1857, in the beautiful little village of Lovely, John M. Roudabush and Elizabeth Claar plighted their troth to be husband and wife. There were present four witnesses to the wedding, viz: Mrs. Susan Musselman, Mrs. Rachel Bowser, Miss Mary Claar and Mrs. Nancy Stuft.

The principal feature of the day was the elaborate informal address made by Rev. John W. Zehring, pastor of the Reformed church. In his very able remarks he voiced the kindly sentiments of the guests towards those in whose honor the function was being held, after which the guests headed by Rev. Zehring and father and mother Roudabush wended their way to the dining room which was tastefully decorated, not only with beautiful flowers, but also by handsome ladies to wait on all. There, groaning under all the cream of the land, stood the table, to the contents of which justice was duly done.

Mr. and Mrs. Roudabush have resided in Bedford county since their marriage. Mr. Roudabush was away only when he was serving his country in the Civil War. They followed the vocation of farmers until recently when he entered upon a retired life, the rest being richly deserved after long years of constant toil. Mr. Roudabush is now seventy years old and his wife one year his junior. Their host of friends wish them yet many more years of wedded bliss.

A Guest.

LETTER TO JOHN LINE
Bedford, Pa.

Dear Sir: Not one man in ten knows whether he's wasting money or not, when he paints. It depends on the paint.

With one paint, your job will take 10 gallons and cost $50 for paint and labor;

with another 12 and cost $60;
with another 14 and cost 70;
with another 16 and cost 80;
with another 18 and cost 90;
with another 20 and cost 100;
with another 22 and cost 110.

Here's an example. Professor Irvine, of the Academy, Mercersburg, Pa., painted the floors of his dormitories every year, one year with one paint, next year with the paint of the other dealer there—to divide the business between them—till Devoe came to town.

The job took 90 gallons; takes 60 Devoe. The difference, 30 gallons, $150. He didn't know he was losing $150 a year till he got Devoe.

Another example. When Geo W. Brown, Union, S. C., painted B. F. Arthur's house first time it took 30 gallons "cheap" paint; repainted Devoe, 14 gallons.

Yours truly

F. W. DEVOE & CO.

A SPLENDID SOUVENIR

North American's Big Supplement for Fiftieth Birthday of Baseball.

The first convention of baseball clubs, that made the game national and fixed the rules under which the sport became the most popular of all games, met just fifty years ago, in 1857.

To celebrate this event, The North American, Philadelphia's greatest baseball paper, will issue a special anniversary baseball supplement next Sunday.

The special features include an article by the famous old-time diamond star, Al Reach, who was playing ball when the convention was held, and compares the old baseball with the new; a color page with superb group photographs of the Phillies and Athletics, the first of 1907; batting and fielding averages of the American, National and Tristate Leagues; a special story by George M. Graham on the Tristate's history and some of the men who have wrought its success; a page of school baseball, another of college baseball, with special references to Pennsylvania institutions; notes of the Atlantic, Blue Mountain, P. O. M., Delaware Valley, Reading City and other leagues, together with doings of independents and amateurs throughout Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey.

The supplement will contain several hundred pictures and the names of not less than 10,000 players and fans, making an unequalled souvenir and baseball reference guide.

Are You Wearing a Moneybak Dress?

The satisfaction that comes of wearing a good black silk gown is complete. There may be other gowns—vari-colored, richly trimmed, very showy and all that, but the black silk, superb, elegant, refined, dignified, is the queen of the wardrobe, and because of this evident superiority the black silk is indispensable. It must be included else the equipment is incomplete.

We all know, though, that there have been many discouragements for those who liked to have a good black silk dress. The market has been flooded with black silks loaded with chemicals to give them weight. Sixteen ounces of raw silk were loaded so as to make forty-eight ounces of silk. There are millions of yards of silk made annually weighted from one to two hundred per cent. This accounts for the failure of the average black silk—and it opened the way for an honest product, hence the unprecedented success of the famous

Moneybak Black Silks.

These splendid silks have attained a popularity unprecedented in silk annals. The people have been quick to appreciate the importance of an honest, straight, true silk and as a result the black silk dress is again taking its rightful place in the esteem of good dressers.

MONEYBAK BLACK SILKS

Are sold here as follows:

$1.25 per yard

$1.50 per yard

$1.75 per yard

$2.00 per yard

We want to introduce Moneybak Silks to every woman not yet familiar with their merits. We want them to see the silks in the piece, to feel them, to test their strength. Ask to see Moneybak—and if you can't come to the store, send for samples. Don't miss knowing them at all events.

MONEYBAK GUARANTEE

The makers say to us:

Moneybak means that if Moneybak Silk is damaged in any way during the difficult process of reeling, throwing, winding, dyeing, weaving, or finishing, or from any fault of the silk or manufacture, claims for such damages will be paid by us without quibbling.

We say to you:

With every piece of Moneybak we sell we give you a written guarantee, as good as any check we ever signed, which on presentation with a defective piece of Moneybak Silk, will entitle you to the money you paid us—every cent of it, without any embarrassment or humiliation to you, will be cheerfully paid.

We do not know of a fairer, squarer proposition.
It makes Moneybak an absolutely safe silk to buy.

This week we received 50 Rolls Matting—the third shipment this Spring. If you have not already bought—it will pay you to come after these—they are beauties—20, 25, 28, 30 and 35c the yard. Special price by the roll of 40 yards.

Carpets

We are in the midst of one of the greatest Carpet seasons we ever had. That we have done the Carpet business of Bedford county is due to the fact that we have what the trade wants and at the right price. We make, lay and line our Carpets and guarantee our work in every respect.

Reed's Shoes For Women

Get Shoes Right

The easiest way to get Shoes that are right is to come here for them. The surest way of knowing they are right before you pay your money for them is to see that the name Reed is on the sole.

A guaranty of the wearer's satisfaction goes with every pair of Reed's Shoes; and we'll make it good; $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

Heywood Shoes For Men

Shoes Worth Having

Get something worth having when you spend your Shoe money. There are lots of "shoddy" Shoes in the market; the high price of leather has led many makers to "take it out of the goods;" that is, out of the wearer; you.

Heywood Shoes are always to be depended on; we know they're right, and the maker stands behind them, with the strongest sort of a guaranty.

We sell Heywood Shoes, $3.50, $3.75, $4.00.

Shirt Waists

Beautiful designs and elaborately trimmed. Silk, fine Lawn and Madras. Some have short sleeves and Duchess Neck and opened in back—others have long sleeves and high necks.

We are showing some exceptional big values at $1.50.
